

Partner Seminar Presented by the Center on Disability Studies at UH Mānoa:

Neurodiversity and Creating an Inclusive Culture

A FREE WEBINAR

Joshua Crafford

Synchrony Financial

VP, Leadership Development Leader

Josh has built and led several International Learning and Development departments within Fortune 200 companies. He is also a thought leader specializing in Neurodiversity and Inclusion, and is neurodivergent himself.

More Information

Explore the vital role neurodiversity plays in enhancing the success of organizations, academics and communities. Uncover the reasons behind why neurodivergent individuals hide their identity and discover easy ways to provide support. Join us for an insightful session that promises to foster understanding and inclusion.

Participants will:

- Develop an understanding of neurodiversity, exploring both the strengths and challenges inherent in the experiences of neurodivergent individuals.
- Learn how to focus on the strengths rather than challenges of neurodivergent individuals, empowering them to help create an environment of innovation and creativity.
- Acquire practical best practices for cultivating an inclusive culture that negates the necessity for self-identification, ensuring universal participation and belonging.

Thursday, Feb 15 2024
1:00pm-2:00pm HST

Register Now!

<https://go.hawaii.edu/38n>

Registration QR Code