Highest Degree/Seeking Degree

Step 2: Write a Personal Statement
A. Describe yourself as a teacher, learner, and writer.
B. Describe how you currently teach and use writing and reading in your classroom.
C. Share why you would like to participate in the Invitational Summer Institute, and how you will share the experiences and knowledge you gain with others at your school.

Step 3: Obtain two letters of reference
Have one colleague and one administrator at your school write a letter explaining why they believe you are a promising or exemplary teacher, and how you would contribute to the Institute. Your administrator should also state how you would be able to share your Institute experiences with other teachers.

Step 4: Mail or email the application materials by Friday, April 7, 2017 to:
• Hawaii Writing Project
  UH-Mānoa College of Education
  1776 University Avenue, Everly Hall 223
  Honolulu, Hawaii 96814
  Attn: Stephanie Furuta, HWP Director
• Email: hwp@hawaii.edu

HWP ISI 2017 participant selection will be based on: (1) a wide representation of K-12 educators, schools and/or districts and (2) the ability of the applicant to share his/her Institute experiences with others at the school site or organization.

If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Stephanie Furuta, HWP Director, at furutas@hawaii.edu, or 808-956-4390.

Thank you for your interest!
