Done with Coursework, Now What?
Mapping out your Doctoral Journey

Friday, April 13, 2018
5:00-6:30 pm
Wist Room 234

Have you wondered how to map out your PhD journey in a way that will help your graduate in a timely manner? After finishing coursework, there are several steps to the doctoral journey that require setting goals, making time and finding motivation to make progress on your own. In this session, we’ll discuss how to navigate the self-directed parts of the doctoral process after coursework. The session will be useful for students in the post-coursework phase as well as those who are still taking courses and looking ahead.

Join Dr. Kavita Rao, Associate Professor at the College of Education for this session.

We hope to see you all there on Friday!

The COEDSA monthly PhriDay Workshop Series provide COE doctoral students an opportunity to meet, network, and listen to faculty, staff and students present information on topics of interest. Questions? Email coedsa@hawaii.edu.
